WEEK 4 (JULY 20-24, 2026)

DAY	ACTIVITIES
July 20, 2026 (Monday)	• Learned about Red Hard Enterprise Linux (RHEL) and its usage in the enterprise world • Created Virtual Machines (VMs) in a Proof-of-Concept (POC) server via the captive ESXi web page and installed RHEL inside it.
July 21, 2026 (Tuesday)	• Practiced basic Linux commands using RHEL, including user creation, system navigation, Internet Protocol (IP) address checkup, and Secure Shell (SSH) remote desktops connections • Troubleshooting user permission errors, as apparently, the parent directory of the file I had permitted to be editable lacked the necessary permissions for the user
July 22, 2026 (Wednesday)	• Attended a technical training session about the entirety of Fortinet services offered by my HTE (Jump Solutions Inc.) • Discovered various tools used in networking, such as Fortinet Security Fabric, FortiGate, FortiAI, and FortiWeb • At the last part of the training session, we dug deeper to the technical requirements of creating and designing predictive wireless connectivity network planning using Ekahau AI Pro
July 23, 2026 (Thursday)	• Worked on two (2) company network plans, with a total of seven (7) floorplans using Ekahau AI Pro • Attended a training session held by one of the Presales of the company, specializing in Cisco systems, where we tackled the services offered by Cisco
July 24, 2026 (Friday)	• Continued working on the last floorplans for Esroh Solutions & Resources Inc. and AtlasCentral Inc. • Attended a technical training session that focused on the setup and management of Windows’ Active Directory (DR)
